HOW CAN YOU GIVE YOUR STUDENTS SPEAKING HOMEWORK?
THE SALES PITCH
THE SALES PITCH - TBL

• Give students the task - Sell something
• They prepare the language
• Do their sales pitch
• Compare theirs to your model one
• Decide what elements they can take from you
• You give some suggestions
• Retry with a focus on accuracy and improvement
• NB: Focus on paralinguistic too.
Please call Stella. Ask her to bring these things with her from the store: six spoons of fresh snow peas, five thick slabs of blue cheese, and maybe a snack for her brother Bob. We also need a small plastic snake and a big toy frog for the kids. She can scoop these things into three red bags, and we will go meet her Wednesday at the train station.
VIDEO DICTATION

• Record your video dictation

• Send it to your students

• They have to listen and write it down

• Then they record it and send it back to you

• NB: Focuses on receptive and productive pronunciation
Technology
VIDEO DICTIONARY

• Collect any new vocabulary which comes up during your lesson

• Give each of the words to individual students

• Show them an example dictionary video

• Ask them to create their own clip for the word

• Collate and share the clips

• Use them for vocabulary revision

TOOLS FOR CREATING BLENDED LEARNING

VIDEO & BLENDED LEARNING

Blended learning has become a very common term, but it can be used to describe a wide range of quite different approaches to ongoing learning.

At the most basic, blended learning can be defined as any form of delivery which combines an online and a face-to-face learning element. There are however many different ways this combination can be configured and the relationship between when and how much is delivered online can have a significant impact on the way the course works.

There are many ways to build video into your courses and structure courses in a way that supports your students’ learning.

Ways of blending learning

These are some common ways of configuring blended learning and:

Supplemental - in this mode of delivery the main core content of the syllabus is delivered in the face-to-face component of the course and online tools and materials are set as homework for stu...
